Clickbank Pirate

Introduction

Founded in 1998, ClickBank is the worlds largest affiliate network, for online sales of digital informative materials, affiliate products and services along with membership and subscription packages.

There are approximately over a 100,000 affiliates actively working on ClickBank at the moment with more than 12,000 publishers promoting digital products.

ClickBank has so far been the most visited business in the world. With over 20,000 daily processed orders which in fact convert into $1 million profit in 1 day.

ClickBank successful business model generates such huge profits, that it relies on a formula that brings together more product publishers, internet affiliates and consumers, benefiting from the networking as well. In this report will give you what you need to start a successful career as a clickbank affiliate. I bet you never really looked at it that way...

Yes, if time and effort is taken to really find a profitable system that allows you to promote clickbank products successfully time and time again, wouldn't you do it? What if I told you that there is a system that will allow you to do this taking less time and effort than if you did on your own? We will talk more about that later on.

If you don't have a Clickbank account, then I advise that you complete the Clickbank affiliate form creating your own account but, if it is you already have a Clickbank username, you will find this report helpful in building a solid clickbank career.

It's no easy task becoming a Clickbank super affiliate, but don't give up before you really get started. Like I said before if a good system is implemented and focus is kept you should have no problems generating a good revenue from promoting Clickbank products.

Starting Your Clickbank Career

With Clickbank robust marketplace you can find different products on various niche markets, allowing you to become an affiliate of Clickbank and earning commissions on every sale that you made through your Clickbank links.

The Clickbank marketplace listings are ranked by popularity, so you can see which products are the in-demand items. Popularity is determined by a number of factors, the main being the amount of sales and the number of affiliates making sales over the last 8 weeks.

Note that some products at the low end may still turn out to be popular especially if it is new and in demand (and since they aren't at the top competition might be low).

Visit the sales page of the product to confirm that the sales copy does a good job of selling the product. Check out the affiliate support. The publisher should provide you with much more than just a link to join the affiliate program. There should be useful promotional material like sample ads, articles, solo mailings, endorsement/reviews and signatures available as well. This usually indicates a product worth promoting.

Find Your Product To Promote

Start by signing up for your Clickbank account , if don't have one already.

Take note of the stats/data below each product in the Market Place. You'll see something like the following:

$/sale: $30.44 | Future $: - | Total $/sale: $30.44 | %/sale: 75.0% | %refd: 75.0% | grav: 123.91

$/sale is the average amount of money that you will make if you promote their product and make a sale.

Future $ is if the product is a monthly/recurring billing product, like a membership site where their buys would pay them every single month. Those products tend to be good products to promote.

Total $/sale is the combined average of the sale and the future sale i.e. what you can expect to earn per customer you send.

%/sale is the commission percentage. So, if the product costs $100, you would get $75 per sale (minus Clickbank fees).

%refd is the percentage of sales made from this product that were referred by their affiliates.

grav stands for gravity. This indicates the number of affiliates that have made 1 or more sales of this product in the past 8 weeks. This number is good to know, and the higher the better. You know that a lot other people have currently sold at least 1 copy of this product... so it is possible to sell it as an affiliate.

Focus on Total $/sale, %/sale, and gravity. It's good to know roughly how much money you'll make per sale. Try to promote stuff that is 50% or higher in commission percentage. You'll find that almost every ClickBank product is at least 50%. And then gravity, which I keep a constant watch over. Gravity is extremely important.

- In an excel spreadsheet, label 4 columns by date, product name, rank and gravity. The products will now be listed in order from making the most money for the product owner, to making the least money.
- You then want to visit the sales page. There are several specific things you should absolutely consider when promoting a product. On the sales page there should be nice graphics on the site, an optin form , a header graphic, a few testimonials or proven results.

Marketing And Promoting

A good place to start is forum marketing. Sign up at various related forums and start participating. Ensure that you are posting quality stuff or you will be seen as pushing your product, which is a not tolerated.

Create a blog so you can promote your affiliate product through banners, contextual links and even through list building. Your blog must have high quality content to attract visitors.

Use blog commenting, a simple but killer tactic. Find relevant, popular blogs, and sign up to Google Reader to keep in touch with the latest posts at the blogs. Then get involved and post your link at the end of your blog comment.

Post ads in targeted ezines to promote your affiliate offer. Using solo ads are the best because visitors will concentrate only on your offer.

Buy banner ads through a network or negotiate ad deals with individual sites like high-trafficked blogs. This is a great way to get residual traffic with hardly any work on your part.

Using social networking sites like Facebook and Twitter is also advised. You do not want to promote your products here, you want to socially network while creating unique methods of driving the traffic to your sales page or blog.

Conclusion

If you can make a few quick easy sales, you will be able to meet the Customer Distribution Requirement, becoming eligible to receive your first check... and soon getting the 3 checks allowing you to move to direct deposit to your bank account... which means weekly payment and no more waiting for the postman to deliver your check.

Problems would surely be solved if you could offer customers an affiliate product which is so highly desirable and attractive that it will be a no-brainer for them to purchase.

Well there is such a product.

- It's a product aimed at ClickBank newbies
- It solves their biggest problem
- Analyzes thousands of ClickBank products within minutes
- Leads to monstrous commission checks
